LAWS OF THE
UNITED STATES

PASSED AT THE
FIRST SESSION OF THE FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

[GENERAL NATURE—No. 114.]

AN ACT to authorize the appointment of shipping commissioners by the several circuit courts of the United States, to superintend the shipping and discharge of seamen engaged in merchant ships belonging to the United States, and for the further protection of seamen.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congsess assembled, That the several circuit courts of the United States, in which circuits there is a sea port or sea ports for which there is a collector of customs, or in which there is a port of entry, shall appoint a commissioner for such sea port within their respective circuits as in their judgment may require the same, and which shall also be ports of ocean navigation; such commissioners to be termed "shipping commissioners;" and may, from time to time, remove from office any of the said commissioners whom it may have reason to believe does not properly perform his duties; and shall provide for the proper performance of such duties until another person is duly appointed in his place; shall regulate the mode of conducting business in the shipping offices to be established by the shipping commissioners as hereinafter provided; and shall have full and complete control over the same, subject to the provisions herein contained.

SEC. 2. That every shipping commissioner so appointed shall enter into bonds to the United States, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties required in his office, for a sum, in the discretion of the circuit judge, of not less than five thousand dollars, with two good and sufficient securities therefor, to be approved by said judge; and shall take and subscribe the following oath before entering upon the duties of his office: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case my be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States; and that I will truly and faithfully discharge the duties of a shipping commissioner to the best of my ability, and according to law." Said oath shall be indorsed on the commission or certificate of appointment, and signed by him, and certified by the officer before whom such oath or affirmation shall have been taken.

SEC. 3. That any shipping commissioner may engage a clerk or clerks to assist him in the transaction of the business of the shipping office, at his own proper cost, and may, in case of necessity, depute such clerk or clerks to act for him in his official capacity; but the shipping commissioner shall be held responsible for the acts of every such clerk or deputy, and will be personally liable for any penalties such clerk or deputy may incur by the violation of any of the provisions of this act; and all acts done by a clerk, as such deputy, shall be as valid and binding as if done by the shipping commissioner. Each shipping commissioner shall provide a seal with which he shall authenticate all his officials acts, on which seal shall be engraved the arms of the United States and the name of the sea port or district for which he is commissioned. Any instrument, either printed or written, purporting to be the official act of a shipping commissioner, and purporting to be under the seal and signature of such shipping commissioner, shall be received as prima facie evidence of the official character of such instrument, and of the truth of the facts therein set forth.

SEC. 4. That every shipping commissioner shall lease, rent or procure at his own cost, suitable premises for the transaction of business, and for the preservation of books and other documents connected therewith, and which premises shall be styled "the shipping commissioner's office." And the general business of a shipping commissioner shall be, first, to afford facilities for engaging seamen by keeping a register of their names and characters; secondly, to superintend their engagement and discharge, in manner hereinafter mentioned; thirdly, to provide means for securing the presence on board at the proper times of men who are so engaged; fourthly, to facilitate the making of apprenticeships to the sea service; and to perform such other duties relating to merchant sea men and merchant ships as are hereby or may hereafter, under the powers herein contained, be committed to him.

SEC. 5. That such fees, not exceeding the sums specified in the table marked "A" in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be payable upon all engagements and discharges effected before shipping commissioners as hereinafter mentioned, and such shipping commissioners shall cause a scale of the fees payable to be prepared, and to be conspicuously placed in the shipping office; and the shipping commissioner may refuse to proceed with any engagement or discharge unless the fees payable thereon are first paid.

SEC. 6. That every owner, consignee, agent, or master of a ship engaging or discharging any seamen or seaman in a shipping office, or before a shipping commissioner, shall pay to shipping commissioner the whole of the fees hereby made payble in respect of such engagement or discharge, and may, for the purpose of in part reimbursing himself, deduct in respect of each such engagement or discharge, from the wages of all persons (except apprentices) so engaged or discharged, and retain any sums not exceeding the sums specified in that behalf in the table marked "B" in the schedule hereto annexed.

SEC. 7. That any shipping commissioner, or any clerk or employee in any shipping office, who shall demand or receive any remuneration whatever, either directly or indirectly, for hiring or supplying any seaman for any merchant ships, excepting the lawful fees payable under this act, shall, for every such offense, incur a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars.

SEC. 8. That in the case of any place or port in which no shipping commissioner shall have been appointed, then the whole or any part of the business of a shipping commissioner shall be conducted by the collector or duputy collector of customs of such place or port; and in respect of such business such customs house shall be deemed a shipping office, and the collector or deupty collector of customs to whom such business shall be committed shall for all purposes be deemed a shipping commissioner within the meaning of this act; and any person other than a commissioner under this act who shall perform, or attempt to perform, either directly or indirectly, the duties which are by this act set forth as pertaining to a "shipping commissioner," shall incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed as as to prevent the owner, or consignee, or master of any ship, except such as are described in section twelve of this act, from performing himself, so far as the said ships are concerned, the duties of shipping commissioner under this act.

SEC. 9. That every shipping commissioner appointed under this act shall, if applied to for the purpose of apprenticing boys to the sea service by any masters or owners of ships, or by any person or persons legally qualified, give such assistance as in their power for facilitating the making of such apprenticeships; but the shipping commissioner shall ascertain that the boy has voluntarily consented to be bound, and that the parents or guardian of said boy have consented to said apprenticeship, and has attained the age of twelve years, and is of sufficient health and strength, and that the master to whom the boy is bound is a proper person for the purpose: Provided, That said apprenticethip shall terminate when the apprentice becomes eighteen year of age. And the shipping commissioner may receive from the person availing themselves of such assistance the fees contained in table "C" in the schedule hereto annexed. And the shipping commissioner shall keep a register of all indentures of apprenticeship made before him.

SEC. 10. That the master of every foreign going ship shall, before carrying any apprentice to sea from any place in the United States, cause such apprentice to appear before the shipping commissioner before whom the crew is engaged, and shall produce to him the indenture by which such apprentice is bound, and the assignment or assignments thereof, (if any,) and the name of said apprentice, with the date of the indenture and the assignment or assignments thereof, (if any) shall be entered on the agreement; and no such assignment shall be made without the approval of a commissioner, the apprentice, his parents, or his guardian. And for any default in obeying the provisions of this section, the master shall, for each offense, incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SEC. 11. That if any person shall demand or receive, either directly or indirectly, from any seaman seeking employment as a seaman, or from any person on his behalf, any remuneration whatever, other than the fees hereby authorized, for providing him with employment, he shall, for every such offence, incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. That the master of every ship bound from a port in the United States to any foreign port, or of any ship of the burden of seventy five tons or upward, bound from a port on the Atlantic to a port on the Pacific, or vice versa, shall, before he proceeds on such voyage, make an agreement, in writing or in print, with every seaman whom he carries to sea as one of the crew, in the manner hereinafter mentioned; and every such agreement shall be in the form, as near as may be, as hereunto in table "D," in the schedule annexed, and shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the master before any seaman signs the same, and shall contain the following particulars, that is to say: First, the nature and, as far as possible, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement, and the port or country at which the voyage is to terminate; secondly, the number and description of the crew, specifying their respective employments; thirdly, the time at which each seaman is to be on board to begin work; fourthly, the capacity in which each seaman is to serve; fifthly, the amount of wages each seaman is to receive; sixthly, a scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each seaman; seventhly, any regulations as to conduct on board, and as to fines, short allowance of provisions, or other lawful punishments for misconduct as may be sanctioned by Congress as regulations proper to be adopted, and which the parties agree to adopt; eighthly, any stipulations in reference to advance and allotment of wages, or other matters not contrary to law: Provided, That whenever the master of any vessel shall engage his crew, or any of the same, in any customs district where no shipping commissioner shall have been appointed under section one of this act, he may perform for himself the duties of such commissioner, in like manner as is provided by the provison of section eight of this act: Provided further, That this section shall not apply to masters of vessels where the seamen are by custom or agreement entitled to participate in the profits or result of a cruise or voyage, nor to masters of coastwise nor to masters of lake going vessels that touch at foreign ports; but seaman may, by agreement, serve on board such vessels a definite time, or on the return of any vessel to a port in the United States may reship and sail in the same vessel on another voyage without the payment of additional fees to the shipping commissioner by either the seaman or the master.

SEC. 13. That the following rules shall be observed with respect to agreements: First, every agreement (except in cases of agreements as are hereinafter specially provided for) shall be signed by each seaman in the presence of a shipping commissioner; secondly, when the crew is first engaged the agreement shall be signed in duplicate, and one part shall be retained by the shipping commissioner, and the other part shall contain a special place or form for the description and signatures of persons engaged subsequently to the first departure of the ship, and shall be delivered to the master; thirdly, every agreement entered into before a shipping commissioner shall be acknowledged and certified under the hand and official seal of such commissioner, and shall be indorsed on or annexed to such agreement, and such certificate of acknowledgment shall be in form and manner following, to wit:

"State of ———, county of ———:

"On this ——— day of ———, personally appeared before me, a shipping commissioner in and for the said county, A. B., C. D., and E. F., severally known to be the same persons who executed the foregoing instrument, who each for himself acknowledged to me that he had read or heard the same; that he was by me made acquainted with the conditions thereof, and understood the same; and that, while sober and not in a state of intoxication, he signed it freeley and voluntarily, for the uses and purposes therein mentioned."

SEC. 14. That, first, if any person shall be carried to sea as one of the crew on board of any ship making a voyage as hereinbefore specified without entering into an agreement with the master of said ship, in the form and manner and at the place and times hereby in such offense shall incur a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars: Provided always, That the ship shall not be held liable for any person carried to sea who shall have secretly stowed away himself without the knowledge of captain, mate, or any of the officers of the ship, or who shall have falsely personated himself to the captain, mate, or officers of the ship for the purpose of being carried to sea; secondly, if any master, mate, or other officer of a ship knowingly receives, or accepts to be entered on board of any merchant ship, any seaman who has been engaged or supplied contrary to the provisions of this act, the ship on board of which such seaman shall be found shall, for every such seaman, be liable to and incur a penalty of a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars: Provided further, That in case of desertion, or of casualty resulting in the loss of one or more seamen, the master may ship a number equal to the number of whose services he has been deprived by desertion or casualty, and report the same to the United States consul at the first port at which he shall arrive, without incurring such penalty.

SEC. 15. That every master of a merchant ship of the United States who engages any seaman at a place out of the United States, in which there is a consular officer or commercial agent, shall, before carrying such seaman before such officer; and the same rules as are hereinbefore contained with respect to the engagement of seamen before a shipping commissioner in the United States shall apply to such engagements made before consular officer or commercial agent; and upon every such engagement the consular officer or commercial agent shall endorse upon the agreement his sanction thereof, and an attestation to the effect that the same has been signed in his presence, and otherwise made as hereby required; and every master who engages any seaman in any place in which there is a consular officer or commercial agent otherwise than as hereinbefore required shall incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, for which penalty the ship shall be held liable; and all such agreements so made shall be made void, and the seaman so engaged shall be entitled to recover the highest rate of wages of the port from which the seaman was shipped.

SEC. 16. That all stipulations for the allotment of any part of the wages of a seaman during his absence which are made at the commencement of the voyage shall be inserted in the agreement, and shall state the amounts and times of the payments to be made, and the persons to whom such payments are to be made.

SEC. 17. That no advance of wages shall be made or advance security given to any person but to seaman himself, or to his wife or mother; and no advance of wages shall be made, or advance security given, unless the agreement contains a stipulation for the same, and an accurate statement of the amount thereof; and no advance wages or advance security shall be given to any seaman except in the presence of the shipping commissioner.

SEC. 18. That if any advance of wages is made or advance security given to any seaman in any such manner as to constitute a breach of any of the above provisions, the wages of such seaman shall be recoverable by him as if no such advance had been made or promised; and in the case of any advance security so given no person shall be sued thereon unless he was a party to such breach.

SEC. 19. That whenever any advance security is discounted for any seaman, such seaman shall sign or set his mark to a receipt indorsed on the security, stating the sum actually paid or accounted for to him by the person discounting the same; and if the seaman sails in the ship from the port of departure mentioned in the security, and is then duly earning his wages, or is previously discharged with the consent of the master, but not otherwise, the person discounting the security may, ten days after the final departure of the ship from the said port of departure mentioned in the security, sue for and recover the amount promised by the security, with costs, either from the owner or from any angent who has drawn or authorized the drawing of the security, in any justice's or other competent court; and in any such proceeding it shall be sufficient for such person to prove the security was given by the owner or master, or some other authorized agent, and that the same was discounted to and receipted by the seaman, and the seaman shall be presumed to have sailed in the ship from such port as aforesaid, and to be duly earning his wages, unless the contrary is proved.

SEC. 20. That the master shall, at the commencement of every voyage or engagement, cause a legible copy of the agreement (omitting signatures) to be placed or posted up in such part of the ship as to be accessible to the crew; and on default shall, for each offense, incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SEC. 21. That any seaman who has signed an agreement and is afterwards discharged before the commencement of the voyage or before one month's wages are earned, without fault on his part justifying such discharge, and without his consent, shall be entitled to receive from the master or owner, in addition to any wages he may have earned, a sum equal in amount to one month's wages as compensation as if it were wages duly earned.

SEC. 22. That all seamen discharged in the United States from merchant ships engaged in voyages as described in section twelve of th is act shall be discharged and receive their wages in the presence of a duly authorized shipping commissioner under this act, except in cases where some competent court otherwise directs; and any master or owner of any such ship who discharges any such seaman belonging thereto, or, except as aforesaid, pays his wages within the United States in any other manner, shall incur a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.

SEC. 23. That every master shall, not less than forty eight hours before paying off or discharging any seaman, deliver to him, or if he is to be discharged before a shipping commissioner, to such shipping commissioner, a full and true account of his wages, and all deductions to be made therefrom on any account whatsoever; and in default shall, for each offense, incur a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars; and no deduction from the wages of any seaman (except in respect of any matter happening after such delivery) shall be allowed, unless it is included in the account delivered; and the master shall, during the voyage, enter the various matters in respect to which such deductions are made, with the amounts of the respective deductions as they occur, in a book to be kept for that purpose, to be called the "Official Log Book," as hereinafter provided, and shall, if required, produce such book at the time of the payment of wages, and, also, upon the hearing, before any competent authority, of any complaint or question relating to such payment.

SEC. 24. That upon the discharge of any seaman, or upon payment of his wages, the master shall sign and give him a certificate of discharge, specifying the period of his service and the time and place of discharge, in the form hereto annexed, marked "E;" and if any master fails to sign and give to any such seaman such seaman such certificate and discharge, he shall, for each such offense, incur a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars: Provided, That the proviso annexed to section twelve, which applies to masters of vessels engaging seamen under that proviso, shall also apply to such masters of vessels in the discharge of seamen.

SEC. 25. That every shipping commissioner shall hear and decide any question whatsoever between a master, consignee, agent, or owner, and any of his crew, which both parties agree in writing to submit to him; and every award so made by him shall be binding on both parties, and shall, in any legal proceedings which may be taken in the matter, before any court of justice, be deemed to be conclusive as to the rights of parties, and any document purporting to be under the hand and official seal of a commissioner, such submission or award shall be prima facie evidence thereof.

SEC. 26. That in any proceeding relating to the wages, claims, or discharge of any seaman, carried on before any shipping commissioner, under the provision of this act, such shipping commissioner may call upon the owner, or his agent, or upon the master, or any mate, or any other member of the crew, to produce any log books, papers, or other documents in their respective possession or power, relating to any matter in question in such proceedings, and may call before him and examine any of such persons, being then at or near the place, on any such matter; and ever owner, agent, master, mate, or other member of the crew who when called upon by the shipping commissioner, does not produce any such books, papers, or documents as aforesaid, if in his possession or power, or does not appear and give evidence, shall, unless he shows some reasonable cause for such a default, for each offense incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, and, on application being made by the shipping commissioner, shall be further punished, in the discretion of the court, as in other cases of contempt of the process of the court.

SEC. 27. That the following rules shall be observed with respect to the settlement of wages, that is to say: First, upon the completion, before a shipping commissioner, of any discharge and settlement, the master or owner and each seaman respectively, in the presence of the shipping commissioner, shall sign a mutual release of all claims for wages in respect of the past voyage or engagement, and the shipping commissioner shall also sign and attest it, and shall retain it in a book to be kept for that purpose: Provided, That both the master and seaman assent to such settlement has been adjusted by the shipping commissioner; secondly, such release so signed and attested shall operate as a mutual discharge and settlement of all demands for wages between the parties thereto, on account of wages, in respect of the past voyage or engagement; thirdly, a copy of such release, certified under the hand and seal of such shipping commissioner to be a true copy, shall be given by him to any party thereto requiring the same, and such copy shall be receivable in evidence upon any future question touching such claims as aforesaid, and shall have all the effect of the original of which it purports to be a copy; fourthly, in cases in which discharge and settlement before a shipping commissioner are hereby required, no payment, receipt, settlement, or discharge otherwise made, shall operate as evidence of the release or satisfaction of any claim; fifthly, upon payment being made by a master before a shipping commissioner, the shipping commissioner shall, if required, sign and give to such master a statement of the whole amount so paid, and such statement shall, between the master and his employer, be received as evidence that he has made the payments therein mentioned.

SEC. 28. That every discharge effected before a shipping commissioner the master shall make and sign, in a form marked "E," in schedule hereto annexed, a report of the conduct, character, and qualifications of the persons discharged, or may state on said form that he declines to give any opinion upon such particulars, or upon any of them; and the commissioner shall keep a register of the same, and shall, if desired so to do by any seaman, give to him or indorse on his certificate of discharge a copy of so much of such report as concerns him.

SEC. 29. That every seaman, being a foreigner, who declares his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States in any competent court, and shall have served three years on board of a merchant ship or ships of the United States subsequent to the date of such declaration, may, on his application to any competent court, and the production of his certificate of discharge and good conduct during that time, together with the certificate of his declaration of intention to become a citizen, be admitted a citizen of the United States; and every seaman, being a foreigner, shall, after his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, and shall have served said three years, be deemed a citizen of the United States for the purpose of manning and serving on board any merchant ship of the United States, anything to the contrary in any previous act of Congress notwithstanding; but such seaman shall, for all purposes of protection as an American citizen, be deemed such, after the filing of his declaration of intention to become such citizen.

SEC. 30. That a seaman's right to wages and provisions shall be taken to commence either at the time at which he commences work, or at the time specified in the agreement for his commencement of work or presence on board, whichever first happens.

SEC. 31. That no seaman shall by any agreement other than is provided by this act forfeit his lien upon the ship, or be deprived of any remedy for the recovery of his wages to which he would otherwise have been entitled; and every stipulation in and agreement inconsistent with any provision of this act, and every stipulation by which any seaman consents to abandon his right to his wages in the case of the loss of the ship, or to abandon any right which he may have or obtain in the nature of salvage, shall be wholly inoperative.

SEC. 32. That no right to wages shall be dependent on the earning of freight by the ship, and every seaman and apprentice who would be entitled to demand and receive any wages if the ship on which he has served had earned freight shall, subject to all other rules of law and conditions applicable to the case, be entitled to claim and recover the same of the master or owner in personam, notwithstanding that freight has been earned; but in all cases of wreck or loss of ship, proof that he has not exerted himself to the utmost to save the ship, cargo, and stores shall bar his claim.

SEC. 33. That in cases where the service of any seaman terminates before the period contemplated in the agreement, by reason of the wreck or loss of the ship, such seaman shall be entitled to wages for the time of service prior to such termination, but not for any further period.

SEC. 34. That no seaman or apprentice shall be entitled to wages for any period during which he unlawfully refuses or neglects to work when required, after the time fixed by the agreement for his beginning work, nor, unles the court hearing the case otherwise directs, for any period during which he is lawfully imprisoned for any offense committed by him.

SEC. 35. That the master or owner of any ship making voyages as hereinbefore described in section twelve of this act, except foreign going ships, shall pay to every seaman his wages within two days after the termination of the agreement, or at the time such seaman is discharged, whichever first happens; and in the case of foreign going ships, within three days after the cargo has been delivered, or within five days after the seaman's discharge, whichever first happens; and in all cases the seaman shall, at the time of his discharge, be entitled to be paid, on account, a sum equal to one fourth part of the balance due to him; and every master or owner who neglects or refuses to make payment in manner aforsaid without sufficient cause shall pay to the seaman a sum not exceeding ten days, during which payment is delayed beyond the respective periods aforsaid; and such sum shall be recoverable as wages in any claim made before the court: Provided, That this section shall not apply to the masters or owners of any vessels where the seaman is entitled share in the profit of the cruise or voyage.

SEC. 36. That any three or more of the crew of any merchant ship of the United States, as described in section twelve of this act, may complain to any officer in command of any of the ships of the United States navy, or any American consular officer, or any shipping-commissioner, or any chief of the customs, that the provisions or water for the use of the crew are at any time of bad quality, unfit for use, or deficient in quantity; such officer shall thereupon examine the said provisions or water, or cause them to be examined; and if on examination such provisions or water are found to be of bad quality and unfit for use, or be deficient in quantity, the person making such examination shall signify the same in writing to the master of the ship; and if such master does not thereupon provide other proper provisions or water, where the same can be had, in lieu of any so signified to be of a bad quality and unfit for use, or does not procure the requisite quantity of any so signified to be insufficient in quantity or uses, any provisions or water which have been so signified as aforesaid to be of bad quality and unfit for use, he shall, in every such case, incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars: and upon every such examination as aforesaid the officers making or directing the same shall enter a statement of the result of the examination in the log book, and shall send a report thereof to the district judge of the port at which such vessel is bound, and such report shall be received in evidence in any legal proceedings.

SEC. 37. That if the officer to whom any such complaint as last aforesaid is made certifies in such statement as aforesaid that there was no reasonable ground for such complaint, each of the parties so complaining shall be liable to forfeit to the master or owner, out of his wages, a sum not exceeding one week's wages.

SEC. 38. That if any seaman, as aforesaid, while on board any ship, shall state to the master that they desire to make complaint, as aforesaid, to any consular officer, or naval officer of any ship of the United States, or any shipping commissioner, against the master, the said master shall, if the ship is then at a place were there is any such officer as aforesaid, so soon as the service of the ship will permit, and if the ship is not then at such a place, so soon after her first arrival at such place as the service of the ship will permit, allow such seaman, or any of them, to go ashore, or send him or them ashore, in proper custody, so that he or they may be enabled to make such complaint; and shall often incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SEC. 39. That in the following cases, that is to say, first, if, during a voyage, the allowance of any of the provisions which any seaman has, by his agreement, stipulated for is reduced, (except in accordance with any regulations for reduction by way of punishment, contained in the agreement, and also for any time during which such seaman wilfully, and without sufficient causes refuses or neglects to perform his duty, or is lawfully under confinement for misconduct, either on board or on shore;) secondly, if it is shown that any of such provisions are, or have been during the voyage, bad in quality, and unfit for use, the seaman shall receive by way of compensation for such reduction or bad quality, according to the time of its continuance, the following sums, to be paid to him in addition to, and to be recoverable as, wages, that is to say: First, if his allowanced is reduced by any quantity not exceeding one third of the quantity specified in the agreement, a sum not exceeding fifty cents a day; secondly, if his allowance is reduced by more than one third of such quantity, a sum not exceeding one dollar a day; thirdly, in respect of such bad quality, as aforesaid, a sum not exceeding one dollar a day. But if it is shown to the satisfaction of the court before which the case is tried that any provisions, the allowance of which has been reduced, could not be procured or supplied in sufficient quantities, or were unavoidably injured or lost, and that proper and equivalent substitutes were supplied in lieu thereof in a reasonable time, the court shall take such circumstances into consideration, and shall modify or refuse compensation, as the justice of the case may require.

SEC. 40. That every ship belonging to a citizen or citizens of the United States as described in section twelve of this act, shall be provided with a chest of medicines; and every sailing ship bound on a voyage across the Atlantic and Pacific Ocean, or around Cape Horn, or the Cape of Good Hope, or engaged in the whale or other fisheries, or in sealing shall also be provided with, and cause to be kept, a sufficient quantity of lime or lemon juice, and also sugar and vinegar, or other anti scorbutics, as Congress may sanction, to be served out to every seaman as follows, that is to say, the master of every such ship, as last aforsaid, shall serve the lime or lemon juice, and sugar and vinegar, to the crew, within ten days after salt provisions mainly have been served out to the crew, and so long afterward as such consumption of salt provisions continues, the lime or lemon juice and sugar daily at the rate of half an ounce each per day, and the vinegar weekly at the rate of half a pint per week for each member of the crew.

SEC. 41. That if on any such ship as aforesaid such medicines, medical stores, lime or lemon juice, or other articles, sugar and vinegar, as are hereinbefore required, are not provided and kept on board, as hereinbefore required, the master or owner shall incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars; and if the master of any ship as aforesaid neglects to serve out the lime or lemon juice, and sugar and vinegar in the case and manner hereinbefore directed, he shall for each such offense incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars; and if any master is convicted in either of the last mentioned penalties, and it appears that the offense is owing to the act or default of the owner, such master may recover the amount of such penalty, and the costs incurred by him, from the owner.

SEC. 42. That every master shall keep on board proper weights and measures for the purpose of determining the qunatities of the several provisions and articles served out, and shall allow the same to be used at the time of serving out such provisions and articles, in the presence of a witness, whenever any dispute arises about such quantities, and in default shall, for every offense, incur a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars. And every vessel bound on any foreign port shall also be provided with at least one suit of woolen clothing for each seaman for use during the winter months, and every such vessel shall be provided with fuel and a safe suitable room in which a fire can be kept for the use of seaman.

SEC. 43. That whenever any seaman or apprentice belonging to or sent home on any merchant ship, whether a foreign going ship or hometrade ship, employed on a voyage which is to terminate in the United States, dies during such voyage, the master shall take charge of all moneys, clothes, and effects which he leaves on board, and shall, if he thinks fit, cause all or any of the said clothes and effects to be sold by auction at the mast or other public auction, and shall thereupon sign an entry in the official log book, containing the following particulars, that is to say, First, a statement of the amount of money so left by the deceased; secondly, in case of a sale, a description of each article sold, and the sum received for each; thirdly, a statement of the sum due to deceased as wages, and the total amount of deductions, if any, to be made therefrom and shall cause such entry to be attested by the mate and one of the crew.

SEC. 44. That in cases provided for by the last preceding section, the following rules shall be observed: First, if the ship proceeds at once to any port in the United States, the master shall, within forty eight hours after his arrival, deliver any such effects as aforesaid remaining unsold, and pay any money which he has taken charge of, or received from such sale as aforesaid, and also the balance of wages due to the deceased, to the shipping commissioner at the port of destination in the United States, the master shall report the case of the United States consular office there, and shall give to such officer any information he requires as to the destination of the ship and probable length of voyage; and such officer may, if he considers it expedient so to do, require the said effects, money, and wages to be delivered and paid to him, and shall, upon such delivery and payment, give to the master a receipt; and the master shall within forty eight hours after his arrival at his port of destination in the United States produce the same to the shipping commissioner there; and such consular officer shall in such case indorse and certify upon the agreement with the crew, the particulars with respect to such delivery and payment; thirdly, if such officer as aforesaid does not require such payment and delivery to be made to him, the master shall take charge of the said effects, money and wages, and shall, within forty eight hours after his arrival at his port of destination in the United States, deliver and pay the same to the shipping commissioner there; fourthly, the master shall in all cases in which any seaman or apprentice dies during the progress of the voyage or engagement, give to such officer or shipping commissioner as aforesaid an account, in which form as they may respectively require, of the effects, money, and wages so to be delivered and paid, and no reductions claimed in such account shall be allowed unless verified, if there is an official log book, by such entry therein as hereinbefore required; and also by such other vouchers (if any) as may be reasonably required by the officer or shipping commissioner to whom the account is rendered; fifthly, upon due compliance with such of the provisions of this section as relates to acts to be done at the port of destination in the United States, the shipping commissioner shall grant to the master a certificate to that effect, and no officer of customs shall clear inward any foreign going ship without the production of such certificate.

SEC. 45. That if any master fails to take such charge of the money or other effects of a seaman or apprentice during a voyage, or to make such entries in respect thereof, or to procure such attestation to such entries, or to make such payment or delivery of any money, wages, or effects of any seaman or apprentice dying during a voyage, or to give such account in respect thereof as hereinbefore respectively directed, he shall be accountable for the money, wages, and effects of the seaman or apprentice to the judicial circuit court in whose jurisdiction such port of destination is situate, and shall pay and deliver the same accordingly; and such master shall, in addition for every such offense, incur a penalty not exceeding treble the value of the money or effects, or, if such value is not ascertained not exceeding two hundred dollars; and if any such money, wages, or effects are not duly paid, delivered and accounted for by the master, the owner of the ship shall pay, deliver, and account for the same, and such money and wages and the value of such effects shall be recoverable from accordingly, and if he fails to account for and pay the same, he shall, in addition to his liability for the said money and value, incur the same penalty which is hereinbefore mentioned as incurred by the master for a like offense; and all money, wages, and effects of any seaman or apprentice dying during a voyage shall be recoverable in the same courts and by the same modes of proceeding by which seaman are enabled to recover wages due them.

SEC. 46. That if any such seaman or apprentice as last aforesaid dies at any place out of the United States, leaving any money or effects not on board of his ship, the United States consul or commercial agent at or nearest the place shall claim and take charge of such money and effects; and such officer shall, if he thinks fit, sell all or any of such effects, or any effects of any deceased seaman or apprentice delivered to him under the provisions of this act, and shall quarterly remit to the judge of the district court of the port from which such ship sailed, or the port where the voyage terminates, all moneys belonging to or arising from the sale of the effects or paid as the wages of any deceased seaman or apprentices which have come to his hands under the provisions hereinbefore contained, and shall render such accounts thereof as the district judge requires.

SEC. 47. That whenever any seaman or apprentice dies in the United States, and is at the time of his death entitled to claim from the master or owner of any ship in which he has served any unpaid wages or effects, such master or owner shall pay and deliver, or account for the same, to the shipping commissioner at the port where the seaman or apprintice was discharged, or was to have been discharged.

SEC. 48. That every shipping commissioner in the United States shall, within one week of the date of receiving any such money, wages, or effects of any deceased seaman or apprentice, pay, remit, or deliver to the circuit court of the circuit in which he resides, the said money, wages, or effects, subject to such deductions as may be allowed by the circuit court for expenses incurred in respect to said money and effects; and should any commissioner fail to pay, remit, and deliver to the circuit court within the time hereinbefore mentioned, he shall incur a penalty not exceeding treble the amount of the value of such money and effects.

SEC. 49. That if the money and effects of any seaman or apprentice paid, remitted, or delivered to the circuit court, including the moneys received for any part of said effects which have been sold, either before delivery to the circuit court, or by its directions, do not exceed in value the sum of three hundred dollars, then, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, and to all such deductions for expenses incurred in respect to the seaman or apprentice, or of his said money and effects as the said court thinks fit to allow, the said may, if it thinks fit so to do, pay and deliver the said money and effects either to any claimants who can prove themselves to the satisfaction of the court either to be his widow or children, or to be entitled effects of the deceased under his will (if any,) or under the statute for the distribution of the effects of intestates, or under any other statue, or at common law, or to be entitled to procure probate or take out letters of administration or confirmation, although no probate or letters of administration or confirmation have been taken out, and shall be thereby discharged from all further liability in respect of the money and effects so paid and delivered, or may, if it thinks fit so to do, require probate, or letters of administration, or confirmation, to be taken out, and thereupon pay and deliver the said money and effects to the legal personal representatives of the deceased; and if such money and effects exceed in value the sum of three hundred dollars, then, subject to deduction for expenses, the court shall pay and deliver the same to the legal personal representatives of the deceased.

SEC. 50. That in case of wages or effects of deceased seamen or apprentices received by the circuit courts, to which no claim is substantiated within six years after the receipt thereof by any of the said courts, it shall be in the absolute discretion of any such courts, if any subsequent claim is made, either to allow or refuse the same; and each of the respective courts shall, from time to time, pay any moneys arising from the unclaimed wages and effects of deceased seamen, which, in the opinion of such court, it is not necessary to retain for the purpose of satisfying claims, into the treasury of the United States, which moneys shall form a fund for, and be appropriated to, the relief of sick and disabled and destitute seamen belonging to the United States merchant marine service.

DISCIPLINE OF SEAMEN.

SEC. 51. That whenever any seaman who has been lawfully engaged, or any apprentice to the sea service, commits any of the following offenses, he shall be liable to be punished as follows, that is to say: first, for desertion, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding three months, and also to forfeit all or any part of the clothes or effects he leaves on board, and all or any part of the wages or emoluments which he has then earned; secondly, for neglecting and refusing, without reasonable cause, to join his ship or to proceed to sea in his ship, or for absence without leave at any time within twenty-four hours of the ship's sailing from any port, either at the commencement or during the progress of any voyage, or for absence at any time without leave, and without sufficient reason, from his ship, or from his duty, not amounting to desertion, or not treated as such by the master, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one month, and also, at the discretion of the court, to forfeit out of his wages a sum not exceeding the amount of two days' pay, and, in addition, for every twenty-four hours of absence, either a sum not exceeding six days' pay, or any expenses which have been properly incurred in hiring a substitute; thirdly, for quitting the ship without leave after her arrival at her port of delivery, and before she is placed in security, he shall be liable to forfeit out of his wages a sum not exceeding one month's pay; fourthly, for willful disobedience to any lawful command, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding two months, and also, at the discretion of the court, to forfeit out of his wages a sum not exceeding four days' pay; fifthly, for continued willful disobedience to lawful commands, or continued willful neglect of duty, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding six months, and also, at the discretion of the court, to forfeit, for every twenty-four hours' continuance of such disobedience or neglect, either a sum not exceeding twelve days' pay, or any expenses which have been properly incurred in hiring a substitute; sixthly, for assaulting any master or mate, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding two years; seventhly, for combining with any other or others of the crew to disobey lawful commands or to neglect duty, or to impede navigation of the ship, or the progress of the voyage, he shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding twelve months; eighthly, for wilfully damaging the ship or embezzling or wilfully damaging any of the stores or cargo, he shall be liable to forfeit out of his wages a sum equal in amount to the loss thereby sustained, and also, at the discretion of the court, to imprisonment for any period not exceeding twelve months; ninthly, for any act of smuggling of which he is convicted, and whereby loss or damage is occasioned to the master or owner, he shall be liable to pay such master or owner such a sum as is sufficient to reimburse the master or owner for such loss or damage, and the whole or any part of his wages may be retained in satisfaction or on account of such liability, and shall also be liable to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve months

SEC. 52. That upon the commission of any of the offences enumerated in the last preceding section, an entry thereof shall be made in the official log book, and shall be signed by the master, and also by the mate or one of the crew; and the offender, if still in the ship, shall, before the next subsequent arrival of the ship at any port, or if she is at the time in port, before her departure therefrom either be furnished with a copy of such entry, or have the same read over distinctly and audibly to him, and may thereupon make such reply thereto as he thinks fit; and a statement that a copy of the said entry has been so furnished or that the same has been so read over as aforesaid, and the reply (if any) made by the offender, shall likewise be entered and signed in manner aforesaid; and in any subsequent legal proceedings the entries hereinbefore required shall, if practicable, be produced or proved, and in default of such production or proof, the court hearing the case may, at its discretion, refuse to receive evidence of the offence.

SEC. 53. That whenever, either at the commencement or during the progress of any voyage, any seaman or apprentice neglects or refuses to join, or deserts from or refuses to proceed to sea, in any ship in which he is duly engaged to serve, or is found otherwise absenting himself therefrom without leave. the master, or any mate, or the owner, or consignee, or shipping commissioner, may, in any place in the Unitrd States, with or without the assistance of the local public officers or constables, who are hereby directed to give their assistance if required, and also at any place out of the United States, if and so far as the laws in force at such [place] well permit, apprehend him without first procuring a warrant, and may thereupon, in any case, and shall in case he so requires, and it is practicable, convey him before any court of justice or justices of any State, city, town, or county, within the United States capable of taking cognizance of offences of like degree and kind of the matter, to be dealt with according to the provisions hereinbefore contained in reference to such cases; and may, for the purpose of conveying him before such courts of justice, detain him in custody for a period not exceeding twenty four hours, or shorter time, as may be necessary, or may, if he does not so require, or if there is no such court at or near the place, at once convey him on board; and if such apprehension appears to the court of justice before which the case is brought to have been made on improper or on insufficient grounds, the master, mate, consignee, or shipping commissioner who makes the same, or causes the same to be made, shall incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars; but such penalty, if inflicted, shall be a bar to any action for false imprisonment.

SEC. 54. That any master of, or any seaman or apprentice belonging to, any merchant ship who, by wilful breach of duty, or who, by reason of drunkenness, does any act tending to the immediate loss, destruction, or serious damage to such ship, or tending immediately to endanger the life or limb of any person belonging to or on board of such ship, or who, by wilful breach of duty, or by neglect of duty, or by reason of drunkenness, refuses or omits to do any lawful act proper and requisite to be done by him for preserving such ship from immediate loss, destruction, or serious damage, or for preserving any person belonging to or on board of such ship from immediate danger to life or limb, shall, for every such offence, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve months.

SEC. 55. That all clothes, effects, and wages which, under the provisions of this act, are forfeited for desertion, shall be applied, in the first instance, in payment of the expenses occasioned by such desertion to the master or owner of the ship from which the desertion has taken place, and the balance (if any) shall be paid by the master or owner to any shipping commissioner resident at the port, at which the voyage of such ship terminates; and the shipping commissioner shall account to and pay over such balance to the judge of the circuit court within one month after said commissioner receives the same, to be disposed by him in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided for the disposal of the money, effects, and wages of deceased seamen; in all other cases of forfeiture of wages, under the provisions hereinbefore contained, the forfeiture shall be for the beneifit of the master or owner neglects or refuses to pay over to the shipping commissioner such balance aforesaid, he shall incur a penalty of double the amount of such balance, which shall be recoverable by the commissioner in the same manner that seamen's wages are recovered.

SEC. 56. That any question concerning the forfeiture of, or deductions from, the wages of any seamen or apprentice may be determined in any proceeding lawfully instituted with respect to such wages, notwithstanding that the offence in respect of which such question arises, though hereby made punishable by imprisonment as well as forfeiture, has not been made the subject of any criminal proceeding.

SEC. 57. That whenever in any proceeding relating to seamen's wages, it is shown that any seamen or apprentice has, in the course of the voyage, been convicted of any offence by any competent tribunal, and rightfully punished therefor by imprisonment or otherwise, the court hearing the case may direct a part of the wages due to seaman, not exceeding fifteen dollars, to be applied in reimbursing any costs properly incurred by the master in procuring such conviction and punishment.

SEC. 58. That every ship making voyages as described in section twelve of this act shall have an "official log book;" and every master of such ship shall make, or cause to be made therein, entries of the following matters, that is to say: First, every legal conviction of any member of his crew, and the punishment inflicted; secondly, every offence committed by any member of his crew for which it is intended to prosecute, or to enforce a forfeiture, together with such statement concerning the reading over such entry, and concerning the reply, if any, made to the charge, as hereinbefore required; thirdly, every offence for which punishment is inflicted on board, and the punishment inflicted; fourthly, a statement of the conduct, character, and qualifications of each of his crew, or a statement that he declines to give an opinion of such particulars; fifthly, every case of illness or injury happening to any member of the crew, with the nature thereof, and the medical treatment (if any); sixthly, every case of death happening on board, with the cause thereof; seventhly, every birth happening on board, with the sex of the infant, and the names of the parents; eighthly, every marriage taken place on board, with the names and ages of the parties; ninthly, the name of every seaman or apprentice who ceases to be a member of the crew otherwise than by death, with the place, time, manner and cause thereof; tenthly, the wages due to any seaman or apprentice who dies during the voyage, and the gross amount of all deductions to be made therefrom; eleventhly, the sale of the effects of any seaman or apprentice who dies during the voyage, including a statement of each article sold, and the sum received for it.

SEC. 59. That every entry hereby required to be made in the official log book shall be signed by the master and by the mate, or some other one of the crew, and every entry in the official log book shall be made as soon as possible after the occurrence to which it relates, and, if not made on the same day as the occurrence to which it relates, shall be made and dated so as to show the date of the occurrence, and of the entry respecting it; and in no case shall any entry therein in respect of any occurrence happening previously to the arrival of the ship at her final port be made more than twenty four hours after such arrival.

SEC. 60. That if in any case the official log book is not kept in the manner hereby required, or if any entry hereby directed to be made in any such log book is not made at the time and in the manner hereby directed, the master shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding twenty five dollars; and every person who makes, or procures to be made, or assits in making, any entry in any official log book in respect of any occurrence happening previously to the arrival of the ship at her final port of discharg, more than twenty four hours after such arrival, shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars.

PROTECTION OF SEAMEN.

SEC. 61. That no wages due or accruing to any seaman or apprentice shall be subject to attachment or arrestment from any court; and every payment of wages to a seaman or apprentice shall be valid in low, notwithstanding any previous sale or assignment of said wages, or of any attachment, incumbrance, or arrestment thereon; and no assignment or sale of such wages, or of salvage made prior to the accruing thereof, shall bind the party making the same, except such advanced securities as are provided for in this act.

SEC. 62. That every person who, not being in the United States service, and not being duly authorized by law for the purpose, goes on board any ship about to arrive at the place of her destination before her actual arrival, and before she has completely moored, without permission of the master, shall, for every such offense, incur a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars, and shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding six months; and the master or person in charge of said ship may take any such person so going on board as aforesaid into custody, and deliver him up forthwith to any constable or police officer, to be by him taken before any justice of the peace, and to be dealt with according to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 63. That if, within twenty-four hours after the arrival of any ship at any port in the United States, any person, then being on board such ship, solicits any seaman to become a lodger at the house of any person letting lodgings for hire, or takes out of such ship any effects of any seaman, except under his personal direction, and with the permission of the master, he shall, for every such offense, incur a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars, or shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding three months.

SEC. 64. That all penalties and forfeitures imposed by this act, and for the recovery whereof no specific mode is hereinbefore provided, shall and may be recovered with costs, either in any circuit court of the United States, at the suit of any district attorney of the United States, or at the suit of any person by information to any district attorney in any port of the United States, where or near to where the offense shall be committed or the offender shall be; and in case of a conviction under this act, and the sum imposed as a penalty by the court shall not be paid either immediately after the conviction or within such period as the court shall at the time of the conviction appoint, it shall be lawful for the court to commit the offender to prison, there to be imprisoned for the term of terms hereinbefore provided in case of such offense, the commitment to be terminable upon payment of the amount and costs; and all penalties and forfeitures mentioned in this act, for which no special application is herinbefore provided, shall, when recovered, be paid and applied in manner following, that is to say: so much as the court shall determine, and the residue shall be paid to the court and be remitted from time to time, by order of the judge, to the treasury of the United States, and appropriated as provided for in section fifty of this act: Provided always, That it shall be lawful for the court before which any proceeding shall be instituted for the recovery of any pecuniary penalty imposed by this act to mitigate or reduce such penalty as to such court shall appear just and reasonable; but no such penalty shall be reduced to less than one-third of its original amount: Provided also, That all proceedings so to be instituted shall be commenced within two years next after the commission of the offense if the same shall have been committed at or beyond the Cape of Good Hope or Cape Horn, or within one year if committed elsewhere, or within two months after the return of the offender and the complaining party to the United States; and there shall be no appeal from any decision of any of the circuit courts, unless the amount sued for exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars.

SEC. 65. That to avoid doubt in the construction of this act, every person having the command of any ship belonging to any citizen of the United States shall, within the meaning and for the purposes of this act, be deemed and taken to be the "master" of such ship; and that every person (apprentices excepted) who shall be employed or engaged to serve in any capacity on board the same shall be deemed and taken to be a "seaman" within the meaning and for the purposes of this act; and that the term "ship" shall be taken and understood to comprehend every description of vessel navigating on any sea or channel, lake or river, to which the provisions of this law may be applicable; and the term "owner" shall be taken and understood to comprehend all the several persons, if more than one, to whom the ship may belong.

SEC. 66. That in no case shall the salary, fees, emoluments of any officer appointed under this act be more than five thousand dollars per annum; and any additional fees shall be paid into the treasury of the United States.

SEC. 67. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 68. That this act shall take effect in sixty days after its passage, but its provisions in regard to appointments under it shall take effect immediately.

TABLE D. (Section 12.)

FORM OF ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT.

United States of America,
(Date and place of first signature of agreement, including name of shipping-office.)

It is agreed between the master and seamen or mariners, of the ——— ———, of which ——— ——— is at present master, or whoever shall go for master, now bound from the port of ——— ——— to ——— ———, (here the voyage is to be described, and the places named at which the ship is to touch, or, if that cannot be done, the general nature and probable length of the voyage is to be stated.)

And the said crew agree to conduct themselves in an orderly, faithful, honest, and sober manner, and to be at all times diligent in their respective duties, and to be obedient to the lawful commands of the said master, or of any person who shall lawfully succeed him, and of their superior officers, in everything relating to the said ship, and the stores and cargo thereof, whether on board, in boats, or on shore; and in consideration of which service, to be duly performed, the said master hereby agrees to pay to the said crew as wages the sums against their names respectively expressed, and to supply them with provisions according to the annexed scale. And it is hereby agreed that any embezzlement or willful or negligent destruction of any part of the ship's cargo or stores shall be made good to the owner out of the wages of the person guilty of the same. And if any person enters himself as qualified for a duty which he proves himself incompetent to perform, his wages shall be reduced in proportion to his incompetency. And it is also agreed that if any member of the crew considers himself to be aggrieved by any breach of the agreement or otherwise, he shall represent the same to the master or officer in charge of the ship, in a quiet and orderly manner, who shall thereupon take such steps as the case may require. And it is also agreed that, (here any other stipulations may be inserted to which the parties agree, and which are not contrary to law.)

In witness whereof the said parties have subscribed their names hereto on the days against their respective signatures mentioned.

Signed by ——— ———, master, on the ——— day of ———, eighteen hundred and———.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

BADA, ILL., Oct. 28, 1872.

We left Plano on Friday last, and rolled down to this place, an important station on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. Here we were met at the station by John Dickey, Esq., and members of his family, and escorted to their neat and comfortable home. Mr. Dickey, as I said in my former letter, is a native of Huntingdon county, where quite a number of his relatives now reside. He spent many years of his active life in Woodberry, Bedford county, and from thence, some thirteen years ago, he removed to this place where he is prospering.

I promised, in my last, that I would give my readers some idea of Plano and its peculiarities. I will do so. Plano is a village of about 700 inhabitants, located on the C. B. & Q. R. R., about fifty-five miles from Chicago. Here is located one of the largest Reaper manufacturing establishments in the country, owned by Marsh, Steward & Co. The machine manufactured here is almost unknown to our farmers in the East, though Mr. Steward informed me that an effort has been made to manufacture them in the Middle States. The machine is called the "Marsh Harvester," and has been perfected by Mr. Marsh. It has undergone many improvements, until now it is almost perfect. Last year the establishment turned out 1400 of them, and the demand was far from being supplied. This year 2000 will be turned out and arrangements are being made to manufacture them on a still more extensive scale. The following are the principal points claimed for the "Harvester":

1st. Two men can bind as much grain upon the Harvester in one day as four can after the common reaper on the ground, and do all of their work under a shade.

2d. The binding can be done in better order, and the grain saved cleaner than where it is thrown on the ground before binding.

3d. The Harvester is simple in construction, having only half the amount of gearing of the common Reaper.

4th. The Harvester is light running. The testimony of all who have used the Harvester agrees upon this point. It is explained by its large carrying wheels, simple construction and complete balance. It has no side draft, and turns as easily as a cart, and costs nothing for repairs.

5th. No other machine approaches the Harvester in successfully saving very short grain. The cutter bar is kept clear of the cut grain by the revolving canvas, enabling the sickle to operate all the time, while the grain is carried to the binders without loss, and can be saved much better than if done by the common reaper.

6th. No other machine will handle lodged, tangled or crinkled grain as well, for the grain is partly straightened in being elevated to the binders.

7th. The Harvester is the best machine ever invented for securing the grain crop, whether the grain be a good stand, very short, very thin, very heavy, tangled, lodged, or crinkled—indeed, the range of our experience has failed to find any condition of grain in which the Marsh Harvester was not vastly superior to the common Reaper in enabling the farmer to save his crop satisfactorily and with little expense.

Plano has three churches—Methodist, Congregational and Latter Day Saints.—There is a colony of several hundred of the latter under the ministration of Prophet Joe Smith, the younger, son of the Prophet Joe who was killed at Nauvoo, in Hancock county. They repudiate polygamy and conduct themselves as good and commendable citizens. Smith publishes a paper called the Latter Day Saints' Herald, which has quite a circulation, I am told, among the various societies of the country.

The country around Plano is an excellent quality of prairie, and produces very prolifically. Corn is raised in great abundance. It is a mere drug at present; not worth more than fifteen cents a bushel.—Fruit is also being raised in large quantities. After leaving Plano south-west the prairie stretches out, on either hand of the railroad, as far as the eye can distinguish. Splendid farms dot the surface at intervals of every few hundred yards. Large numbers of cattle are being raised for the market and can be seen grazing lazily on almost every farm. The farmers have concluded that nothing pays them so well as stock. Into it they can feed their surplus corn, and as stock always finds a ready sale, at fair prices, they can realize their money out of their crops sooner in this way than in any other. Almost every farm you pass has one or two of Perkins' self-regulating wind-mills for pumping water. It is a very handsome machine, and presents a very striking appearance. It is said to be a most capital article and to do its work faultlessly. It is manufactured by the Sandwich Enterprise Company, located at Sandwich, Ill.

At Wyanet the country becomes quite rolling, and continues so until we reach Buda. A number of groves strike out boldly into the prairie and change the entire face of the country. The timber is small, however. In fact the whole aspect of the country reminds me of some portions of Ohio.

Buda is a village of 1200 or 1500 inhabitants. It contains four churches—Methodist, Congregationalist, Baptist and Union—and one very fine Common School building. The repair shops of the C. B. & Q. R. R. and its Rushville branch are located here and employ quite a number of hands. One of the most interesting features of the place is Mr. Dickey's apiary. He has been in the bee business for a number of years, and what he don't know about bees ain't worth knowing. He raised about seventeen hundred pounds of honey last year, but during the winter his bees were effected with the bee cholera, that prevailed throughout the country, and he was left with only a few swarms to commence last spring, but he has gathered together quite a large colony again and, if all goes well, he will start into the business next spring with renewed vigor and turn out honey enough to supply the States. He is the most zealous man, in the business, that I have ever seen.

I will write my next letter from Page county, Iowa, if all goes well. J. R. D.

EIGHT CHILDREN AT A BIRTH.—On the 21st of August, Mrs. Timothy Bradlee, of Trumble county, Ohio, gave birth to eight children— three boys and five girls. They are all living and are healthy, but quite small. Mr. Bradlee was married six year ago to Eunice Mowrey, who weighed two hundred and seventy-three pounds, on the day of marriage. She has given birth to two pair of twins, and now eight more, making twelve children in six years. Mrs. Bradlee was a triplet, her father and mother being twins, and her grand-mother the mother of five pairs of twins.—Cincinnati Lancet and Observer.

A Sad Case.

More than a year ago Dr. R. H. Parks came to this town, a hale, hearty, fine looking, handsome man, well built, being six feet in height, gentlemanly in manners and appearance, and on a great many subjects more than ordinarily intelligent. He came here for the purpose of lecturing upon "The Horse," he having written a treatise upon the subject, which he placed on sale in the book stores, and was also the inventor of one of the best horse shoes ever made. He had innumerable apparatus in the way of illustrative bridles, bits, curbs, straps, shoes, &c., which he used in his lectures, and seemed to be a perfect master of his profession. He met with success, and was fast growing in the estimation of all who were interested in that noble animal, the horse. He was consulted by many persons in regard to the diseases of their horses, and from one of these cases he received his death. He was called upon by a farmer to make a post mortem examination of a horse that had died suddenly, which was done, and it was discovered that he had died of that terrible disease, glanders. The day was excessively warm when the examination was had, and it is supposed that the Doctor, through the medium of the millions of pores on his body, expanded from the heat, absorbed the deadly virus from the animal. He was not affected immediately, but in due time began to feel the effects of the poison in his system, which increased to such an extent that finally he was confined to his bed at the Washington House, where he remained during all last winter, when, in the early part of the summer, he rallied enough to permit him to walk out occasionally.

But what a change had come over the appearance of the stalwart man! He was a skeleton, almost, drooping and sad. Again, he was taken with symptoms of the further stages of the loathsome disease, and, not wishing to be a burden upon any one, took refuge at the Alms House. Here he lingered until a week or ten days since, when death came to his relief. At one time immense ulcers appeared on different portions of his body, but, strange to say, within a short time of his dissolution they had healed up outwardly. He had the services of three or four of our best physicians and the attention of a number of our citizens, but without avail, and at his death his funeral services were conducted by Rev. Walter Mitchell, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of this place, and he was buried in the graveyard of that church. The carriages of all the livery stable keepers, besides those of others, were placed at the service of those who superintended the obsequies, and quite a number of persons attended. The most singular part of this sad affair is that no one in this vicinity knows where he came from, as he was not communicative upon that point. He merely said that he had relatives in Kentucky, but that he did not wish to trouble them with the knowledge of his misfortunes. During the whole time of his sufferings, which are said to have been intense, no word of complaint was uttered, bearing all with a fortitude beyond expression.—Twice-a-week.

We have had a fortunate escape, owing to the mistake made by M. Plantamour in his calculations regarding the comet that was to destroy us. Other deep astronomers have been to work, and they have reached results which they claim are incontestible. They conclude that the inevitable end of this unfortunate planet will come on the 21st of October, 2011. Unhappily we shall not be here to verify the prophecy. This time it is not the fiery tail of a comet that is to do the business and to roast the entire human race. It is the burning out of the sun, which will reduce the earth to a solid mass of ice. The temperature will descend so far below zero, that no number of thremometers combined will be able to indicate the depths of its frigidity. This is a very bad look out for our descendants, to whom the prospects of this dread October day, one hundred and thirty-nine years hence, cannot possibly prove a source of eager and gleeful anticipation.

From all quarters of the Union we receive the glad tidings that Republicans have been true to their ancient faith, and that Grant and Wilson are triumphantly elected. Pennsylvania, ever found on the side of Right, goes for Grant to the ture of 80,000. New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, &c., wheel into line and cast their Electoral votes for the man who saved the country from the grasp of traitors. The victory is overwhelming and complete, and for the next four years we are assurred that we will have peace and prosperity throughout the country.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Believing in the Lord, our covenant God, in whom our fathers trusted, and in His controlling Providence over the affairs of men and nations, a public acknowledgment of His goodness and of our constant dependence upon Him is eminently becoming an enlightened and civilized people: Now, therefore, impressed with these sentiments, in pursuance of a revered custom, and in confirmity with the Proclamation of Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, recommending that THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF NOVEMBER next, be set apart as a day of Praise, Prayer and Thanksgiving; I, JOHN W. GEARY, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do most respectfully request the citizens of this State to observe that day as such with all due respect and solemnity. Let thanks be given to Almighty God that he has bestowed upon us all the common blessings of life, given us health, and relieved us from pestilence; that labor is abundantly rewarded; that we have no dread of impending famine, or fear of industrial or commercial distress; that the arts, sciences, general education, and the sentiments of peace and good will are steadily advancing. Let us be especially thankful for great privileges of American citizenship; for the untrammeled expression of opinion; that our political rights still remain safe under beneficent laws and in the hands of an order loving people; and that "equal and exact justice" is vouchsafed to all. For these, and for all other civil, social and religious blessings we enjoy, let us yield the sincere tribute of grateful hearts, and humbly beseech their continuence.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State at Harrisburg, this twenty eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-seventh.

JOHN W. GEARY.

The latest thing in suicides comes to us from Cleveland, Ohio, where an individual, rashly importunate, went to his death after the following unique preparations: He first procured a revolver and connected it with a species of clockwork, so that it should be fired off at a certain time. He then got into bed and took a dose of chloroform, after having placed the pistol behind his ear. He then, under the influence of the narcotic, went to sleep. At the given time the clockwork pressed the trigger of the pistol, firing it off and launching the idiot into eternity.

He was picked up and carried to the house in an insensible condition. After watching by his bedside through many weary hours, his mother perceived signs of returning concsiousness. Leaning over him, she asked if there was anything she could do for him, now that he began to feel better. Should she bathe his forehead, or change his pillow, or fan him? Was there any thing he wanted? Opening his eyes languidly, and looking at her, the little sufferer said: "Yes; I want a pair of pants with a pocket behind." He got them.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1873—SIXTH YEAR.

THE ALDINE,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for sale in Book or News Stores.

The Aldine, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of the Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, The Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when The Aldine assumed its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year; proving that the American public appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the utmost to develop and improve the work; and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of The Aldine.

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America.

In addition, The Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs or copies of any kind.

The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child-sketches, appropriate to the four seasons. These plates, appearing in the issues for January, April, July, and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world, at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country; but, as the usefulness and attractions of The Aldine can be enhanced, in proportion to the numerical increase of its supporters, the publishers propose to make "assurance double sure" by the following unparalleled offer of

PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873.

Every subscriber to The Aldine, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. ill, the eminent English painter. The pictures, entitled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moor," are 14x20 inches—are printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determination of its conductors to keep The Aldine out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers to a five dollar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art; and, considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for The Aldine itself, the marvel falls short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. (For illustrations of these chromos, see November issue of The Aldine.)

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT

will continue under the care of Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of The Aldine always in keeping with its artistic attractions.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free

The Aldine will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.

A man, named Black, was run over by one of the passenger trains on the Penn'a. RR., near Spruce Creek, on Friday evening, and instantly killed.

Any shortcomings in this issue of the JOURNAL must be attributed to the absence of the editor, who is still "dead-heading" it through the "west countrie."

The iron bridge over Stone Creek is finished. It is a fine structure. The borough authorities are having the abutments filled up. It will be ready for travel in a few days.

Our devils say they are afraid to venture out, since their announcement last week that they would trade old papers for kisses, owing to their inability to supply the demand.

We understand that an engine exploded on the H. & B. T. R. R., in the neighborhood of Saxton, on Friday last, injuring three persons, but to what extent we have been unable to learn.

Last week a brick fell off the chimney of an adjoining roof, through a window of the Ebensburg Freeman office, barely missed the devil's head, and pied about two columns of matter ready for press.

We are in receipt of two pieces of music—"Autumn Leaves" and "Back to the Old Home"—from the popular house of J. L. Peters, 599 Broadway, N. Y. The music is on sale at the book store of J. C. Blair.

The next improvement we want in this town is water works. Our borough "fathers" should not be behind small towns like Tyrone. The Legislature has authorized the borough to borrow one hundred thousand dollars for that purpose.

Our colored friends purpose giving a first-class entertainment, at Yenter's Hall, on Wednesday evening, the 6th inst., for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of musical instruments. Give them a crowded house.

A poetical exchange gets off the following: The bass horn of the bull frog has ceased to blow, the stakedriver sings not in the meadows low, the katydid's hurdy-gurdy has stopped its flow, and the fire-fly's lamp no more will show the cricket how to tune his old banjo. Cause: winter is coming.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD CALAMITY—Two Engines Collide on the Broad Top Railroad—Four Men Killed and one Fatally Injured.—One of the most heartrending disasters it has been our duty to chronicle for some time, occurred on Friday afternoon last, on the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad, about four miles from Hopewell, and between that station and Piper's Run, by the collision of two engines, Nos. 17 and 18, resulting in the instantaneous death of four persons, A. P. Decker, engineer of No. 17, and Lewis Coulter, fireman, Stephen McCahan and Jacob Bowser conductors on the different trains, and the fatal injuring of a fireman named Reed. Reed died on Saturday night, making five victims of the holocaust.

Decker and Coulter were citizens of this place; the former narrowly escaped with his life during a recent accident. He leaves a wife and two children. Coulter was unmarried. McCahan and Bowser were residents of Saxton. The former had been an employee on the road for the last fifteen years, and leaves a wife and four children. The latter was but recently married.

The cause of the accident was owing to the wrong reading of orders sent Bowser, one of the conductors.

THE "EPIZOOTIC."—The Canadian horse disease is spreading throughout the country. Having reached Philadelphia and other portions of this State, it is fair to presume that this county will not escape the contagion. The early symptoms are a light hacking cough, with general dullness, an indisposition to move, cold legs and ears and a watery discharge from the nostrils. The following prescriptions are recommended:

Prescription No. 1.—Linseed oil, 1½ oz; turpentine, 1½ oz; liquor ammonia fort, 1 oz. Mix all together in a four ounce bottle and apply to the throat, if you think it necessary to do so.

Prescription No. 2.—Nitrate Potash, 1½ oz; tartarized antimony, 1½ oz; digitalis, 1½ oz Pulverize all together and make twelve powders; give one morning and night. If they are not very bad you might omit the last ingredient, namely, digitalis.

Prescription No. 2 should be given every morning and evening. If the throat should be sore—which can be ascertained by pressure of the hand upon the larynx—about two tablespoonsful of prescription No. 1 should be rubbed in.

Bargains in Wool Shawls, Ladies' Furs, Velveteens, &c., at Glaziers'. [Oct.30-3t.

A MAN KILLED.—John Forest, a son of Mr. Daniel S. Forest, of Alexandria, aged between 21 and 22 years, and employed at Hatfield's Fire Clay Bank, in Porter township, was almost instantly killed, on Thursday, while at work on the Bank. He was engaged in undermining the clay in order to make a "fall," but before he thought it ready, the mass gave way, striking him violently upon the breast and abdomen, throwing him to the ground and across a heavy wooden bucket, breaking the bucket to staves. He arose from the ground, but in a minute or two fell and expired, having sustained fatal internal injuries. P. M. Isenberg, engaged with young Forest at the same job, also sustained some serious but not fatal injuries.

Miss E. M. Africa has just returned from the city with a full stock of millinery and fancy goods of the latest styles, to which she invites the attention of ladies.

OPENING OF SCRIBNER'S NEW VOLUME. Dr. J. G. Holland's new novel, "Arthur Bonnicastle," begins in Scribner's for November—the initial number of another volume of the magazine. It will be a New England story, in autobiographical form. In the opening chapter the hero describes a notable event of his childhood, and introduces the reader to some curious characters. The exquisite design by Miss Hallock, which stands at the head of the installment, is itself a story and a poem. Dr. Holland's editorial contributions to the present number are more extensive than usual. In "Topics of the Times," he discusses "Pere Hyacinthe's Marriage," which he strongly defends, "Civil Service Reform," "Prayers and Pills," "The Outsiders," and "The Power of the Affirmative." The first article of the number is a profusely illustrated paper by Miss Edna Dean Proctor, on "Northern Russia and St. Petersburg." E. W. Sturdy, an officer of the U. S. Navy, describes most vividly "The Earthquake at Africa," and the illustrations to this article are superb. An interesting feature of this number is a group of five poems by five celebrated women-poets, Christina G. Rossetti, H. H., Celia Thaxter, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, and Elizabeth Akers Allen. "Kate Parkman's Wedding Days," by Eliza Wood, is far above the average magazine story of the day, and contains passages of remarkable originality and power; and Hiram Rich's "Tictom Deficit" is a quaint and witty sketch. Col. T. W. Higginson contributes an admirable critical paper on "Hawthorne's Last Bequest," Moncure D. Conway tells about "The Demons of the Shadow," and Edward King, of the Boston Journal, gossips very pleasantly about "The Coming Man," in a paper on "An Expedition with Stanley." The Old Cabinet contents are "The Little Man of Destiny," "Is he Honest?" and "The Song of a Rose." There is practical information and entertaining writing in the Departments of Nature and Science, Home and Society, and Culture and Progress, and the number closes with a page of Etching, showing the different kinds of Angles.

"GOOD FOR THIS DAY ONLY."—The question whether passengers may "lay over" and resume their journey at pleasure, or whether, when they do so, they have forfeited their tickets for the remainder of their journey is still being discussed by the newspapers. The courts have already decided that a man who buys a ticket, as it were, between Huntingdon and Philadelphia, has the undoubted right to stop any place on the road and to resume his journey at his leisure, without buying another ticket. The legend, "Good for this Day Only," has no value, and the law has decided that any action taken by conductors, with a view to enforcing the implied contract, is illegal.

HOW TO GO WEST.—This is an inquiry which every one should have truthfully answered before he starts on his journey, and a little care taken in examination of Routes will in many cases save much trouble, time and money.

The "C. B. & Q. R. R." running from Chicago, through Galesburg to Burlington, and the "I. B. & W. Route," running from Indianapolis, through Bloomington to Burlington, have achieved a splendid reputation in the last two years as the leading Passenger Routes to the West. At Burlington they connect with the B. & M. R. R. and form the great Burlington Route, which runs direct through Southern Iowa to Nebraska and Kansas, with close connections to California and the Territories; and passengers starting from Huntingdon county, on their way westward, cannot do better than to take the BURLINGTON ROUTE.

This Line has published a pamphet called "How to go West," which contains much valuable information; a large correct map of the Great West, which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R. Burlington, Iowa.

Miscellaneous.

VINEGAR BITTERS—PURELY VEGETABLE—FREE FROM ALCOHOL—Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters.

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means; and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructions of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Billious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lenghty advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon preceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Billious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Billious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Titter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Grateful Thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

SURPRISING.

It is really surprising how rapidly

are becoming popular all over the country. Thousands are daily praising them for their many virtues and say they would not be without them in their families. To you who have never tested them, we would say if you have Fever and Ague you cannot do better than use

MOUNTAIN HERB BITTERS.

For Liver Complaints, Scrofulous Affections and Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, use

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE
Restorative and Blood Purifier.

has no superior for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Diseases of the Respiratory Organs.

THE SAMSON OIL

need only to be tried to convince the most incredulous that it will cure Nervous Headache, Cholera Morbus, Colic, Cramps, Sprains, Bruises, &c.

Dr. Wengert's Hepatica Pills

are an Alternative Cathartic, and can be used for an ordinary Cathartic or Physic, and should always be use in connection with the MOUNTAIN HERB BITTERS in severe cases of Fever and Ague. We know that there is continually being palmed upon the people some wonderful preparation that is without merit or virtue, therefore the people lose confidence in preparations that do possess virtue. Yet it would certainly be unwise and unreasonable to condemn all the various remedies offered to the public because some are disgraceful humbugs. All we ask is for you to give a fair trial, and if they are not deserving of your praise and confidence, then denounce them in your strongest terms.

Fouse's I. X. L. Horse and Cattle Powders

are considered the best now in use. TRY THEM

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

Strong and pure rich blood—increase of flesh and weight—clear skin and beautiful complection secured to all.

Sarsaparillian Resolvent has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes under the influance of this truly wonderful medicine, that every day an increase in flesh and weight is seen and felt.

The Great Blood Purifier.

Every drop of the Sarsaparillian Resolvent communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous Discharges from the Ears, and the worst form of Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Ache, Black Spots, Worms in the flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting the wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the Sarsaparillian will and does secure.

Tot only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous Constitutional, and skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Uniary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy Stoppage of Water, Incontenence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where they are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is morbid, dark, billious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, buaning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the back and along the Loins Price, $100.

WORMS.—The only known and sure remedy for Worms—Pin, Tape etc.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

REVERLY, MASS., July 18, 1869.

DR. RADWAY:—I have had Ovarian Tumor in the ovaries and bowels. All the Doctors said "there was no help for it." I tried every thing that was reccommended; but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it; but had no faith in it, because I had suffered lor twelve years. I took six bottles of the Resolvent, and one box of Radway's Pills and two bottles of your Ready Relief; and there is not a sign of a tumor to be seen or felt, and I feel beter, smarter, and happier than I have for twelve years. The worst tumor was in the left side of the bowels, over the groin. I write this to you for the benefit of others. You can publish this if you choose.

SHERIFF'S SALES.

By virtue of sundry writs of Fi. Fa. and Vend. Exp. to me directed, I will expose to public sale at the Court House, in Huntingdon, on MONDAY, November 11, 1872, at 1 o'clock, p. m., the following described real estate, to wit:

All of defendant's right, title and interest of, in, and to all that certain lot of ground, situate in the village of M'Connellstown, bounded on the north by main street or public road, on the east by lot of John Johnston, and on the south and west by other lands of said defendant, George H. Lang, containing about one-half acre, and having thereon erected a Tannery, known as Lang's Tannery, with the buildings, fixtures, and appurtenances thereto attached.

ALSO—All that certain tract of land, situate in Walker township, adjoining the tannery property above described, bounded on the north by the said tannery property and lands of Joseph M'Coy, on the east by lands now of the said Joseph M'Coy, and on the south and west by lands of Thomas Hamer, containing about twenty-one acres, more or less, cleared and under fence, with a small orchard thereon, and no buildings but an ice house.

ALSO—All that certain lot of ground, adjoining the said village of M'Connellstown, situate in Walker township, being lot No. 1, bounded and described as follows: beginning at a post, being a corner of Daniel Kyper's lot, thence by the H. & B. Road, N. 48½ E. 10.49 perches to a post; thence S. 42⅝ E. 60.98 perches to a post on line of lands of A. B. Sangree; thence by the said line S. 48⅛ W. 10.49 perches to a post; and thence by line of lot of A. Farm and Household.

Hard and Soft Water.

All housewives may not know how materially the effects of hard and soft water differ in cooking of various vegetables; while one species of vegetables requires hard or soft water, as the case may be, another species becomes sensibly deteriorated by it. For an instance, peas and beans, cooked in hard water, containing lime or gypsum, will not boil tender. because those substances harden vegetable caseine. In soft water they boil tender, and lose a certain raw, rank taste, which they retain in hard water. Many vegetables (as onions) boil nearly tasteless in soft water, because all the flavor is dissolved out. The addition of salt often checks this, as in the case of onions, causing the vegetables to retain their peculiar flavor. ing principles, besides much nutritious matter which might be lost in soft water, Thus it appears that the salt hardens the water to a degree. For extracting the juices of the meat to make a broth or soup, soft water, unsalted and cold at first, is best, for it much more readily penetrates the tissues; but for boiling meats where the juices should be retained hard water is preferable and the meat should be put in while it is boiling so as to seal up the pores at once.

Manures.

Work up all the litter, leaves, muck, sawdust, and everything that can decay, in liberal quantities into manure. The heaps should be worked over and mixed, so as to give the mass the greatest uniformity, unless, indeed, it is desireable to keep different kinds of manure for especial purposes, The careful saving of poultry-house manure mixed with a little, say twice is bulk, of earth, or sawdust and plaster, well rammed into barrels, will afford a fair quantity of excellent guano, equal to that of the Peruvian Island. Allowing fowls and turkeys to roost on trees and under out-buildings and sheds, which are in constant use for other purposes, involves a total loss of this.

Pianos.

PATENT

COMBINES MANNER'S FOUR
SIMPLIFYING PATENTS,
THE MOST VALUABLE PATENTS EVER USED IN PIANO-FORTES.

PATENT ARION.

REVERSED

THE
AND THE SUSTAINING

A FEW REASONS
WHY THE
ARION PIANO
IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS:

The ARION PIANO-FORTE has greater power than any other Piano-Forte manufactured.

It will Stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construction it is more perfect, and, therefore, more durable, than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style.

The arrangement of the Agraffe, the manner of stringing, the peculiar form and arrangement of the Iron Frame

SUPERCEDES ALL OTHERS

The use of a bar (which is a part of the Iron Frame on a line with the heavy steel stringing,) gives where most needed, and in this respect all other pianos fail.

The construction of the WREST PLANK, into which the tuning Pins are inserted, is such that it is impossible for the pins to come loosened, or the Wrest Plank itself to split, as is too often the case in other Piano-Fortes.

The Extraordinary Evenness

throughout the scale, the excellent Singing Quality, the

LENGTH AND PURITY OF VIBRATION,

all go to prove what we claim, viz: that the

ARION PIANO-FORTE

Is the Best Instrument Manufactured.

ALSO

ESTEYS COTTAGE ORGANS,

WITH THE
VOX JUBILANT
AND
THE NE PLUS ULTRA OF

universally acknowledged to be the BEST Organ made for Sunday Schools, Churches, Parlors and Lodges.

Having more power, with a sweeter tone, than any other Organ in the market notwithstanding the representations of agents interested in the sale of other Organs, we do fully warrant every Organ for the period of five years, (at our own expense.) We have no agent in Huntingdon at present, therefore all who may want one of the best Organs extant may receive, by corresponding with us, a price and descriptive list from which a selection may be made, to which we will give our personal attention, and guarantee satisfaction,
